FOREWORD

It is everywhere at North Quincy High School: it rubs off its intellectual drive upon us from dedicated administrators and teachers, it spills over its enthusiasm upon us from zealous advisers and coaches, it beams its good nature from one classmate to another of us.

It is infectiously uplifting, disciplining, spirited, and jolly—N.Q.H.S's
INSPIRATION FOR ACHIEVEMENT

ACADEMIC

They Inspire Us

Prom arrangements finally complete!

One of the unending mysteries of human behavior lies in an explanation of the nature of ambition. No one has yet discovered the real source of inspiration. We know that it has roots deep in the human soul, that it is personal, that it is a force capable of moving mountains. It is found in the humble and the mighty, the saint and the sinner. We know that it is born in an atmosphere of quality. Excellence is a soil fertile for the seeds of learning. Though they lie within ourselves, their nourishment stems from the earth of heritage and the climate of tradition—these we strive to maintain at North in an awareness that knowledge sets us free and that in freedom blossoms creativity.

1962 was a profitable season for the North Quincy High School football team. Under the capable coaching of Mr. Leone and his assistants: Mr. Sadowski, Mr. Nolan, and Mr. Hill, the Raiders compiled a 6-3 record which is one of the finest records North has ever had. All could not have been accomplished without the inspirational leadership of Captains Paul Gearin, Bill Mahan, and Carl Cipollone.

The Raiders started off on the right foot by downing Milton, probably one of their most powerful opponents, 12-0. Next they faced Class A Weymouth and were defeated 20-6. The Raiders then suffered a depressing loss against Taunton in a hard-fought and hotly-disputed contest. Undismayed, North came up with shut-outs against both Braintree and Chelsea. After experiencing their third loss of the season, this time against Dedham, the Raiders trounced Stoughton 20-6 and Hingham 16-6. Coach Leone's second year as coach was brought to an end as the team played one of their best games against Quincy High School in the annual Thanksgiving game. They blanked the Presidents 18-0, with Bill Curran winning the Granville award.

North will long remember this team's great spirit and determination and will look forward to another successful season next year.

The reasons for the great interest in basketball this year can be found by watching our team on the court. The able ball handling gave the Raiders an easy victory over Lowell. North's new Walter "Cap" Bryan Gym had standing room only as North fought to a 56-51 win over our rivals Quincy. After victories over Medford and Everett, North's winning streak was ended by always-powerful Malden, 46-42.

Both the team and the fans combined to make the Greater Boston League's first double header a success. The stands were filled to watch Quincy swamp Lowell, and our own team explode for a 41-point second half to beat Revere.

North's second loss came at the hands of Chelsea, although our defense held their high-scoring center to only half his average. The hoopsters' loss to Somerville was followed by a high-scoring second victory over Lowell.

The hoopsters made up for a heart-breaking, last minute loss to Quincy with a second win over Medford.

At this time we dare predict that the high spirit of this talented team insures for us a fine performance in the approaching Tech Tourney.

Faced with only two experienced players, Ned Burke and Paul Deschamp, Coach Bob Laing anticipated a building year. He has but inexperienced skaters to try to produce a winning sextet. The line of Phil Leith, Tom Joyce, and Ned Burke has worked well together, scoring most of the Raiders' goals. Co-Captains Dean Nicholson and Peter Nickerson and Forward Nick Rucky have also scored well.

This year's squad numbers many underclassmen, including Bob Lippens, Gary De Coste, and Alan Higgins. With the experience gained in the first round of the Metropolitan League, the icemen will have to be reckoned with in the second half of the season.

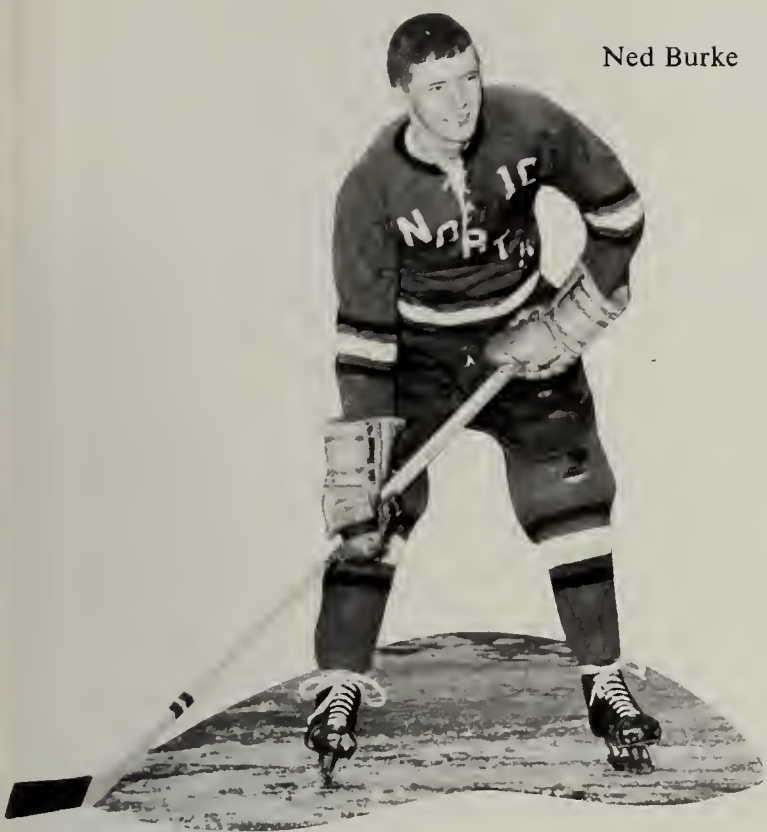

Things look bright for the 1963-64 season, since most of this year's squad will return to play as will players from the newly-formed junior varsity and city-wide Junior High School hockey programs.

Those speedy forms hustling around the track or puffing through limbering exercises are the core of one of the finest track teams North has had in many years. Led by the record-breaking miler Bob Nocher, the team has shown glimpses of good promise in Metropolitan League meets with Needham, Belmont, Watertown, and Arlington in the javelin and dash by Ken Massey, in the high and low hurdles by Bob Chute, Dave Lister, and Bob Shaughnessy, and in their performances by seniors Rick Goslin, Paul Madden, Bill Mackey, and Paul Gearin.

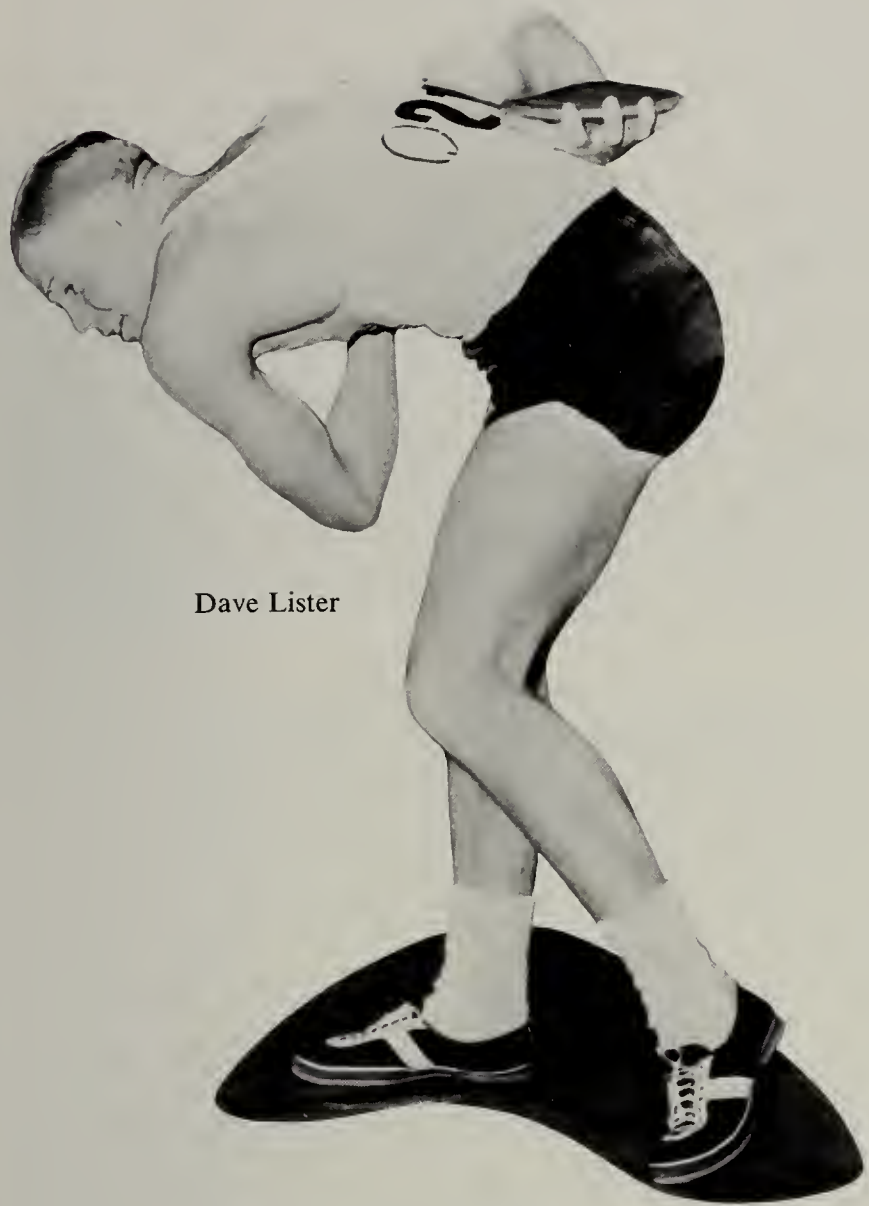

Coach Bob Gentry considers our winter track team

one of the best even though it does not have the indoor matched. North has done well with a record of seven wins and two losses and is sure to be fully prepared to meet any team in the spring. The hurdlers are looking forward to a fine season, as are discus throwers Dave Lister, Walt Simmons, and Carl Lindholm. North's javelin man Dick Poore and pole vaulter Bill Mackey are also confident of securing a winning record as is the entire team. North can be certain that its track team will continue to uphold its fine sportsmanship and will emerge from the season as another successful athletic venture.

Coach Ed Phillips foresees a great season for his 1963 baseball squad. Since only four of last year's starters graduated, he will have a solid foundation on which to build a winning team. Certainly if the results of the pre-season clinic can serve as a barometer of what is in store, this year will see one of North's best teams.

It was this year's seniors who were responsible for ending last season on such a strong note. Phil Crowley and Dave Olson hurled several important games, including North's win over previously undefeated Thayer. The 10-6-1 record compiled by that team should inspire the 1963 squad to achieve even better results.

One of Coach Phillips' biggest problems will be choosing one player from several equally-qualified players for each infield position. This problem will be especially acute for the catcher's position. There should be no problems filling in for the outfielders who graduated because of the large number of players from last year's J.V. team. All these factors indicate a most profitable season for baseball.

A well-balanced nucleus of the 1961 squad, including Co-Captains Dave Lister, Rich Caliri, and Rich Poore, along with pleasantly-surprising newcomers, Dick Webber and Dean Nicholson, combined to give Coach Paul Stanton his best season yet.

Practice had just begun when the Raiders were slated for their first game against a powerful Avon team. Unfortunately we lost 1-0. In the next game, even three overtime periods failed to break the 1-1 deadlock with Norwell. After dropping a 4-1 contest to undefeated Sharon, the booters rolled over Duxbury, Quincy, and Avon in three straight games.

North's next victory came after a string of three losses. The booters won the city championship by defeating our archrivals Quincy again, 3-1.

In non-league competition the Raiders did well, sinking Thayer, 5-2, and out-playing Milton, 2-0. Standouts of the season included seniors Jim Piscatelli, Dick Murphy, Bob Fantasia, and Bill Mackey. All South Shore Fullback Jack O'Mally, Joe Perley, and Marty Curry, all juniors, and sophomore Dick Quinn are expected to lead the 1963 squad to great achievement.

Mr. Donahue gives John and Bob some swinging advice.

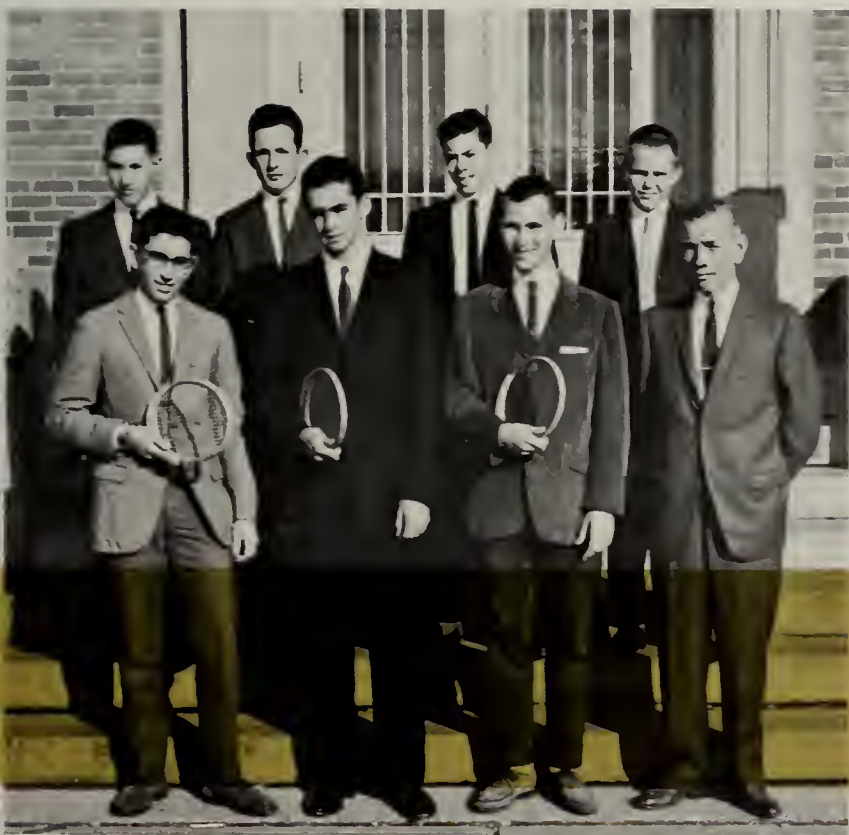

If unflagging spirit and hard work are any standards of success, then North's golf team is sure to finish the season with a fine record. Long recognized as an able and well-organized group, this year's team promises to be no exception. The team led by Captain Bob Askin and including seniors Dick Murphy, Steve Gauger, Bill Troupe, John Barkas and junior Tom McPartland, will be teeing off against other golfers from such schools as Cohasset, Scituate, Weymouth, Braintree, and Quincy. Coached by Mr. John Donahue the boys will soon be at practice, working toward that par score and toward that standard of success so typical of North.

GOLF

Tennis triumphs will follow Coach Sinclair's message to Alan, Bill, and Andy.

Although North's tennis team is composed mainly of juniors, with its two returning seniors Bill Courtney and John Pickrell, those juniors form a good nucleus for the coming spring season. With long hours of perfecting each serve, backhand, and lob ahead of them, Mr. Roy Sinclair's boys hope to improve on last season's record of two wins and five losses. The team is looking forward to close matches with other schools in the South Shore League, including Hingham, Scituate, and of course Quincy, and to the kind of success that will make it another symbol of the spirit and determination here at North.

STUDENT COUNCIL

How good is N.Q.H.S.'s Student Council? Good enough to merit a second consecutive Mass. Dept. of Education citation for successful co-ordination between student body and faculty.

At the opening of the school year, President Bill Jones and his officers—Vice Pres., Laurie Macdonald; Secretary, Maryellen Nardone; and Treasurer, Kevin Farrell—were ready with a helpful orientation assembly for ninth and tenth graders, and a large stock of attractive bookcovers for North's new books. Another major activity during the first semester was a clothing drive to relieve the hardships of the people of Hazard, Kentucky.

In keeping with the spirit of the season, the Student Council "Welcomed Winter" at its first dance, and later sponsored the lively Bermuda Hop.

Always striving for improvement, members of the Council attended encouraging regional conferences and participated in a friendly exchange program with council members from Hingham High.

RIFLE CLUB

And you shoot real bullets? Yes, the Rifle Club is for real. At least one night a week the target-shooting sportsmen, sportswomen too, met at the rifle range in the cellar of Atlantic Junior High. Old members helped the new ones, and everybody learned range procedure.

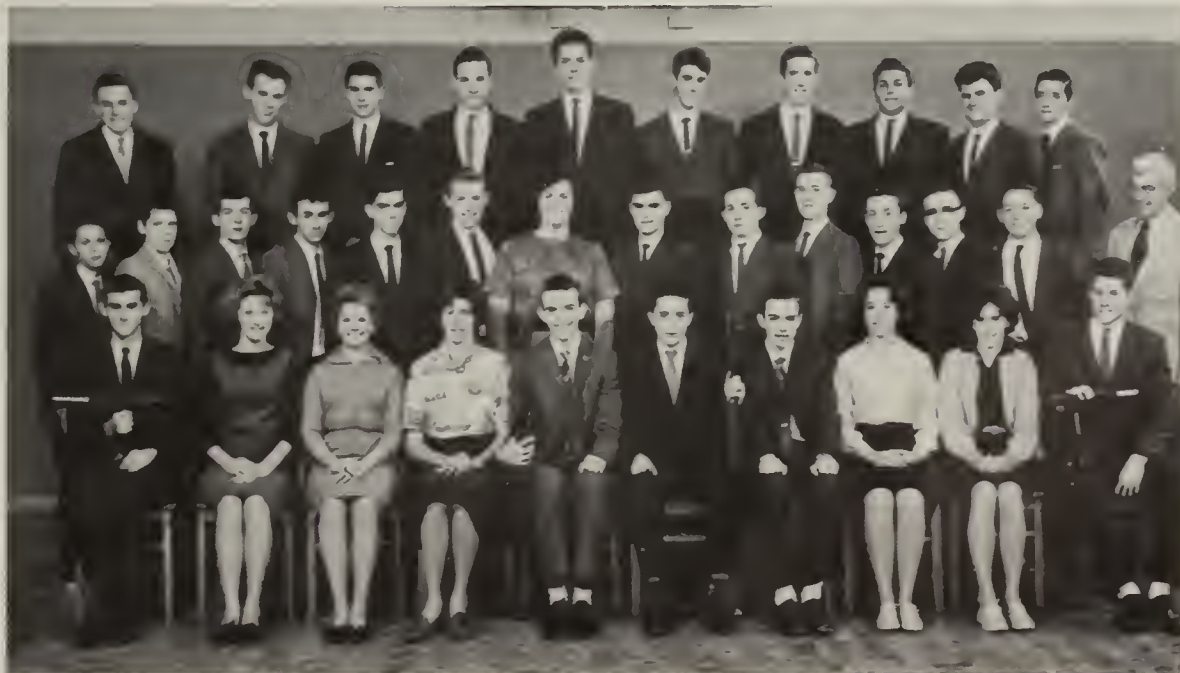

The Club's officers—President, Jim Gormley; Vice-President, Kevin Murphy; Secretary, Sharon English; Treasurer, Ray Gormley; and Range Master, Allan Gnospelius, worked to keep sessions organized, safe, and fun for everyone. Under the supervision of Mr. Burgess, each member worked throughout the year to earn a progression of certificates and awards. Beginner or pro, each enjoyed the sport.

President Gerry Gaughan and his fellow officers implemented a well-planned program to attain its goal of service to the school and the community. Adviser Mr. Carlin has seen that Key Clubbers serve as ushers at every school assembly. Both the Fall Sports Dance and the Parents Appreciation Dinner are indicators of the group's interest in promoting North Quincy.

The larger role of Key Club is service to the community. The junior Kiwanians helped to reawaken our dormant civic pride with "Get out and Vote" and "Keep the Streets Clean" campaigns.

This year's Christmas festivities included a number of Christmas parties which brightened the holiday season for many retarded children. On February 16, Horrigan-Rull International Jazz Orchestra was presented in concert by the Key Club for the benefit of retarded children.

The activities of such a group as our Key Club are an inspiration to all of us.

Conferences!

The noise of a typewriter!

Loud bellowing!

A scramble to meet deadlines!

What is it? the North Star, of course. Although Editors Ellen McCloskey and Rich Caliri often wondered about the journalistic skill of their amateur reporters, they received (usually at the last moment), professional appraisals and write-ups of all phases of North life.

We readers especially demanded and enjoyed those wild "Prominent Seniors" articles. The entire faculty and student body avidly followed news of our sports, dances, and clubs, and while we often loudly denounced the informers, we were lulled into a sense of "making it" when we saw the gossip and horrible baby pictures.

All in all, the hours the adviser Mr. Murphy spent with the staff and the editors preparing copy were rewarded immeasurably as each and every issue was quickly sold out.

SKETCH CLUB

Jim, Larry, and Arlene put the finishing touches on their Motif #1.

Young artists, who work towards becoming good artists, often accomplish their goal. Under the reassuring guidance of Mr. Abraham, the members of the Sketch Club strive for their goal: to be artists with a purpose. The decorations at the holiday assemblies were examples of art with a purpose. These decorations conveyed the true spirit of Christmas, Easter, and Memorial Day to all the members of North Quincy High School. The busy young artists also fashioned ornaments for the office and the cafeteria. With our sacred heritage for inspiration, and the guidance of Mr. Abraham for support, the members of the Sketch Club will reach their goal.

RECEPTIONISTS

Judy and Betty sample their own red carpet treatment.

First impressions are lasting impressions. And we at North are proud that many a visitor has received his first contact with both the student body and the faculty through the friendliness and intelligence of our receptionists.

Mr. Roberts, faculty adviser, is careful to select poised and competent junior and senior girls who by their knowledge of the school layout are willing and able to help any puzzled visitor find his way. The warmth and know-how of this gracious staff have helped to create a lasting impression of North Quincy High School's spirit and enthusiasm.

TRI-EMANON

Executives Peggy, Carol, Betty, Pam, and Joan address a Monday-night meeting.

Although the girls in Tri-Emanon have planned dances, hay rides, splash parties, and other interesting social activities, they never lose sight of the club's key role as a service organization. Through weekly dues and money-raising activities the girls are able "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community projects that reflect high standards of Christian character." The year is always highlighted by the candlelight induction ceremony in which the true ideals of "pure thoughts—pure words—pure actions" become a part and ambition of each girl.

SIG-MA-PHI

Five Sig-Ma-Phis prove themselves shining examples of industriousness.

The gregarious girls meeting on Wednesday nights at the Quincy YMCA are members of the Sigma-Phi Tri-Hi-Y, one of North's two sister clubs. In following the club's creed of Pure Thoughts, Pure Words, and Pure Deeds, the girls have spent many hours diligently helping with assorted chores at the YMCA, and have run a variety of enjoyable activities for fund-raising purposes: autumn hayrides, inter-club dances, and Saturday morning car washes. The money earned from these efforts has helped to send a young person to summer camp and to clothe inmates at a women's reformatory. Under the guidance of their officers, President Paula Smith, Vice President Gene O'Connell, Secretary Linda Gordan, Treasurer Maryellen Nardone, and Chaplain Marilyn Marney, the Sigma-Phi club has devoted its energy and time toward a satisfying blend of generosity and friendliness.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

With inspiration in the air, the Senior Class of 1963 has missed nary an opportunity to promote achievement. As Grand Marshals at the 1962 Commencement Exercises, the class officers were inspired as waning 11th graders by the significant successes of their predecessors. They realized on one side the seriousness of their offices, and on the other, the need for a fast-moving, gratifying centered activity schedule.

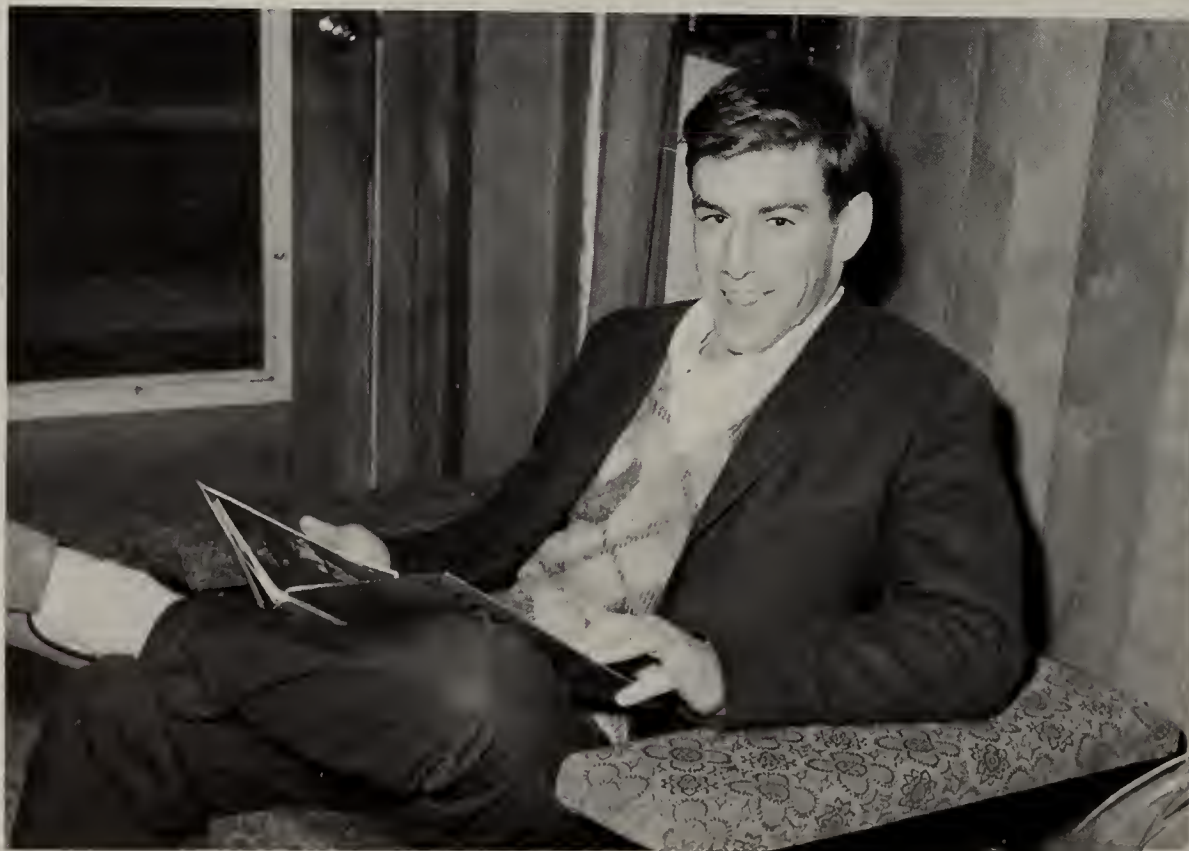

After the romping fun of a summer vacation, the officers were eager for work and the ultimate realization of their hopes and ideals for the class. President, Paul Gearin; Vice President, Judy Leefe; Secretary Vicky Kowilcik; and Treasurer, Rick Ericson, met with Adviser, Mr. Donahue, to determine what needed doing first. They soon found out that they had to turn their shoulders to many firsts.

With Prom, Dance, Class Day, and Spirit Committees chosen, the officers could spotlight the co-ordination and magnitude of all class functions. Prexy Paul made the big decisions and important announcements to the homeroom representatives. Veep Judy headed the Spirit Committee and represented the class in the Student Council. Secretary Vicky recorded class meetings, took care of all correspondence with the School Committee, and kept tabs on Lake Pearl and the Hotel Somerset. Treasurer Rick was the money man, an object of awe to the class debtor.

With three successful dances, a memorable Class Day, a gift to the school, and a Hotel Somerset Prom behind them, the class hope they have left some example of achievement behind as kindling for a roaring social program for the incoming seniors. The impressiveness of the class' contributions to the school may be, we hope, some measure of the impetus for individual distinction in the future. For this reason we look forward to our first Class Reunion in 1968, for what fun it will be to recall fondly our life from 1960-1963!

What's up for Class Day, Paul?

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

The Junior Class is striving for its goal: to become the Senior Class. Inspired by the work of class adviser, Miss Katherine McCoy, and the class officers: President, Walter Simmons; Vice-President, Patricia Grant; Secretary, Elsie Menslage; and Treasurer, Edward Marchant, the Class of 1964 presented three successful dances. The first two of these were the "Monster Mash," in October, and the "Jack Frost Jump," in January. The Junior Prom on the fourth of May sparkled with such social gaiety that the juniors will never forget it. The home-room representatives sold North buttons both to inspire our boys onward to victory and to boost our treasury. The gold ring on the finger of a junior is his personal inspiration. This inspiration multiplied by five hundred equals achievement.

CLASS DAY

Where do fun-loving, last-thing high schoolers fit in best? Why—at Class Day of course. This year's Committee on the wiles and ways of the traditional Class Day—Cindi Ames, Margie Santoro, Sandy Smart, Bob McLaughlin, Bob Morris, Rich Stracuzzi, and Paul Kopp—went to the extent of meeting at poolside to decide on the atmosphere of their class day. The beautiful Lake Pearl was selected months in advance to allow time for the Squantumites to get the sand out of their shoes and the Montclair brats to get away from the corner drugstore. Finally all was accomplished and the big day arrived.

Armed with towels and sun-tan lotion, the co-eds loaded the buses and crowded the boys under the seats. From a Riviera-like day of swimming and nautical games the Seniors moved on to nighttime gaiety: the class banquet and farewell dance. The metamorphosis from carefree high schoolers in daytime to Parisian sophisticates dans le soir testifies to the versatility of typical N.Q.H.S. seniors.

PROM COMMITTEE

Early in the year, the Prom Committee for 1963 began its preparations for the sophisticated soirée. Chairman Amy Levine, under the guidance of experienced Mr. Donahue and with the help of the class officers, divided the committee into subcommittees for the choosing (and guarding) of favors, and the preparing of programs and invitations.

With corsages bought, turkey and chicken dinners ordered, and formals donned, the happy couples departed for the luxurious Hotel Somerset's Louis XIV Ballroom. After exchanging formal greetings with the distinguished receiving line, we had the best time ever at the highlight of our fun-loving social life at North. All was made more enjoyable by the music of Gil Loring and the period elegance of the Ballroom's French Provincial décor.

The Senior Class of 1963 may justly be happy with its measure of social achievement in the year. From the opening dance "Kickoff," in the Fall, through the "Tinsel Twist," in mid-winter, to the final spring dance, the year was sparked with social gaiety and financial success.

Eight Dance Committee Chairmen—Pam Murphy, Peggy McGue, Laurie Macdonald, Jack Kelley, Arlene Molloy, Jane Nugent, Gene O'Connell, and Fran DeRosa—co-ordinated the efforts of class workers on decorations, refreshments, tickets, and advertising.

With three successful dance proceeds safely in the Class Treasury in addition to the abundance of green stuff therein already, the class officers were all too happy to complete their festive plans for the remainder of the year.

Achievement is the result of hard work. The North Quincy High library is an example of achievement. Only through the patient work of the library staff has our library become efficient. Under the direction of Miss Buckley and Miss Countie, the members of the staff gave unselfishly of their time to keep track of library books, to type, to assemble bibliographies, to receive mail and magazines, and to help the many students who use our library daily. By maintaining an efficient library, the library staff aided in scholastic achievement. Success, or maybe friendly assistance, inspired students to search more for information. The staff, headed by Margery DeKorte, president; Marie Hedin, vice president; Denise Harrington, secretary; and Martha Blair, treasurer, presented the traditional Mothers' Tea. This event amply rewarded the members of the staff for their long hours of service to the students of North Quincy High.

Miss Buckley's inspirational leadership lends new sparkle to the Library Staff.

LIBRARY STAFF

A life of service and satisfaction awaits the devoted members of North Quincy's Nurses' Career Club. For it is these girls who will one day extend a helping hand to the sick, the handicapped, and the needy.

Under the guidance of Miss Alice Gray, the girls and the officers: Joan Lundgren, Diane Brierley, Josephine Mattia, and Lorraine Dahlroos, are taught nursing skills which they put into practice in volunteer service programs at nearby hospitals and nursing homes.

Our future nurses have indeed begun their gentle life of dedication.

VARSITY CLUB

Perhaps the most traditional college-type organization active in contemporary high schools is the Varsity Club, that group of three-or-more letter players who integrate sports interests with social outlets. And such is North's club with collegiate-minded Mr. Bob Laing as the dynamic faculty sponsor. Peppy sports assemblies, swinging record hops, a sophisticated dance, ways and means for financing sports trophies and athletic jackets, chorus line and eccentric dance routines in the Girls' Club Show symbolize the busy and versatile program mapped out for the 1962-1963 season by the Initiative Committee: Paul Gearin, Chairman, Bill Mitchell and Dick Coyman. No doubt that these boys know how to inspire for achievement!

MANET

This is how it all began—with Bob, and Hoff, and Jim.

From 8:30 to 5:00 p.m. (if anyone is still around), five pools of mental sweat may be seen flowing in and out of that room of inspiration, creativity, perseverance, and discipline—Room 205. What is the cause of this mysterious traffic? Anyone who knows the history of North may tell you: the challenge is the school yearbook, the Manet.

Much to the anticipation of the tenderfoot editor, Manet production involves more than just a casual opening and closing of a file drawer. When the Keller rulers, copy sheets, and dummy layouts appear, editors know the jig is up.

So, under the careful supervision and watchful eye of their eagle scout, Mr. Hofferty, the editors set to work. Co-Editors-in-Chief Vicky and Bill turn to the arranging and the accompanying of picture-taking of all important school functions, and to the assigning and assembling of all write-ups under Editorial and Clerical Staff care. Layout Editor Bob manipulates page after page of layout. Business Manager Jane keeps financial records and works with Bill in the receipt-taking of Patrons and Advertisers. Literary Editor Ellen becomes everyone's girl Friday: both writer and co-ordinator.

When the Manet for 1963 is finally a reality, its editors hope its readers feel as intimately appreciative of it as they, in staking their all, feel intimately associated with it.

Co-Editors-in-Chief Bill and Vicky discuss the possibilities of their Manet theme.

Layout Editor Bob checks the finished product.

Finances—Jane's pleasure.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The members of the National Honor Society are indeed a select group. It numbers these people for whom service, both to school and to community, is a standard of conduct, for whom scholarship is a prime motivating factor, for whom character is so omnipresent that it is worthy of emulation, for whom leadership is so dynamic that it had already played a part in school life. The students who best fit that description are elected each spring into this group, sponsored jointly by Mrs. Black and Mr. Miceli.

President, Richard Caliri; Vice-President, John Pickrell; Secretary, Diane Smith; and Treasurer, Ellen McClosky, were not content, however, to let this be an organization of juniors. They met to form committees to conduct the annual induction ceremony and post-induction reception.

SPANISH NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Recognition comes in many ways to students at North, not the least of which is membership in the National Spanish Honor Society. First year students must have averages better than 90, while second and third year students need averages above 85 to qualify. As well as having either a proficiency or a potential for proficiency in Spanish, members must also have achieved corresponding scores in their other studies.

Aside from already-earned recognition of past attainments, the members follow a program of further education and achievement. This function of the organization falls to its officers: President, Carol Green; Vice President, Donna Chartier; Secretary, Stephanie Heintz; and Treasurer, Richard Dyer, and their adviser, Miss Pratt.

FRENCH HONOR SOCIETY

New at North this year, the French Honor Society is composed of a small nucleus of senior students. The pupils were elected on the basis of high yearly averages in French I through French IV.

Members of the organization may have been confused at first by all the tapes, knobs, lights, and buttons in the new language laboratory, but with practice and patience, the students were soon on their way towards an enviable mastery of the French language. Each member of the French Honor Society has certainly found the new laboratory an inspiration for achievement and will always be grateful to his sponsor Mrs. Jack for making such a society possible.

SPIRIT COMMITTEE

Judy, Gene, and Jack boost spirit over the goal.

It is Wednesday evening, November 22, 1962. With locker rooms humming with the thrill of an Opening Night, football players tense with anticipation, and the crowd rapidly filling the 2,000 capacity Walter "Cap" Bryan gym—the Thanksgiving Rally is underway.

The exuberance of this rally will never be forgotten in the minds and hearts of those who worked so hard to make it a success and a manifestation of the spirit at North. The cooperation between the cheerleaders and the Spirit Committee headed by Judy Leefe in this rally produced a laughter-filled evening of calisthenics, football play enactments, and locker room pep talks.

Long hours spent with paper, stencil, and paint brush, and a support of all athletic events from football to baseball by the 60-odd members of the Committee did not go unrewarded in the renewed confidence of the teams and the fact-proved theory: With Inspiration Comes Achievement.

GREAT BOOKS

The symbolism of Antigone gives pith to the discussion here, moderated by Dr. Djerf.

Until late on Friday afternoons, room 201 is the scene of many stimulating discussions and fist-pounding arguments for the members of the Great Books Club. With a great literary work as a starting point, the members, refereed by Miss Persis Johnson and one special guest, are encouraged to freely set forth their own ideas, and inevitably dispute one another's. The members run the informal sessions themselves, but occasionally they must be steered back on to the track by Miss Johnson when the discussion strays too far from the subject or when two participants, each absolutely certain that the other is wrong, are at each other's throats and must be subdued or separated. For the active participant these sessions prove challenging, absorbing, and intellectually stimulating, and contribute to a greater understanding of some of the masterpieces of literature.

RED CROSS

Giving service is the aim of the girls who meet before school on Tuesday mornings in the room of their sponsor, Miss Enos, to make favors for the hospital, plan the campaign for their annual drive, or work on their current projects. These girls, who comprise North's Red Cross group, find their motivation in needs which they can fulfill, whether they involve visiting and cheering old folks in the local Friel Nursing Home, gathering supplies for a school in the Philippines, or providing decorations for a Veterans' Administration dance. Under the leadership of their able and active president, Cynthia Lindahl, these girls give many hours of service in worthwhile activities, and from them derive a great deal of personal satisfaction.

Linda, Roxanne, and Rosemary do their part in fostering intellectualism in the Philippines.

RESOLVED—That N.Q.H.S.'s Debaters are second to none.

Timekeeper Keith cautions Steve about the length of his U. N. talk.

DEBATING

For the first time in its five-year history, North's debating group belongs to two leagues: the Greater Boston Debating League and the South Shore Debate League, and is now affiliated with the National Forensic League. Once or twice each week our debaters, accompanied by either Mrs. Jones or Mr. Miceli, their coaches, represent North at debates sponsored by these leagues. Besides attending local debates, the teams debate at regional tournaments, including a state competition. In addition to actual debating, the group sponsors in the fall a debate clinic for the training of novice debaters and adults who are interested in judging. This clinic is beneficial to all concerned. As for the future, the group has great potential and, with its top varsity team of Errol Dickey, a senior, and Steven Kalish, a junior, North's debating group is sure to meet with success.

GIRLS' STUDENT LEADERS

What means the world to a member of North Quincy High Girls' Student Leader Corps? Simply a pair of flying rings, a beam, a mat, or just a rope. And to add to the enchantment of this gymnast utopia, North is proud to boast of the beautiful new Walter "Cap" Bryan Gymnasium and of all its ultramodern facilities.

Under the supervision of Miss McCoy, the Student Leader Corps thrilled the audience at the gymnasium's dedication with stunts of tremendous skill and co-ordination.

Should you venture into the gym any day after school, take note, for it is here that some of the girls: Joan Del Gallo, Marjorie De Korte, Linda Gordon, Laurie Macdonald, Diane Smith, Joan Simpson, Pam Pearce, and Leila Nash spend hours of practice to acquire the grace and skill that awe us.

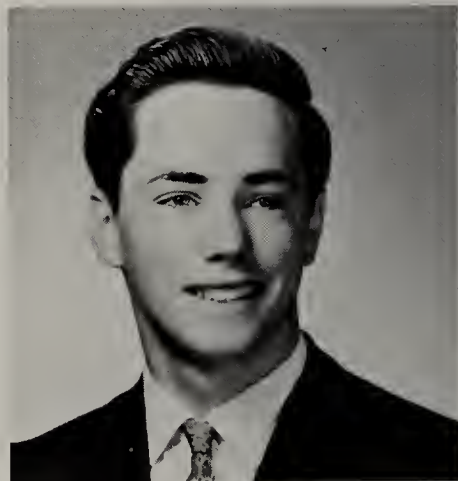

But through all the fun and hard work of the Girls' Student Leaders, the ultimate goals of sportsmanship and teamwork are never forgotten.

BOYS' STUDENT LEADERS

The addition of an enthusiastic coach, Mr. George Golding, and of a modern, well-equipped gymnasium has provided the Boys' Student Leaders with added incentive as they compete in the new varsity sport: Gymnastics. The gymnasts meet daily after school to develop their art. They work tirelessly to improve their routines on the mats, horizontal bar, side horse, still rings, and parallel bars.

North was edged 94-88 in the first meet of the season by a strong Framingham team, but gained experience which led to victory over their second opponent,

Lexington, by a large margin, 102-81. The gymnasts took six firsts in seven events: Marty Butler, horizontal bar and still rings; Rich DelGallo, floor exercise and tumbling; Walt Simmons, parallel bars; and Walt Fawcett, side horse. Seniors Walt Pitts and Art Sullivan, as well as underclassmen Steve Sagar, Bill Belcher, Johnny Chaisson, Tom Burns, and Joe Carraggi, added to the overall strength of the team.

With Coach Golding at the controls, the team should become a formidable opponent in high school competition.

GIRLS' BOWLING

Spare! Strike!—the two most exciting words in North Quincy's "Bowlers' Dictionary." And every Monday afternoon nearly fifty girls from our Girls' Bowling Club test their bowling skills at the local Norfork Downs Bowling Alleys. These girls, under the leadership of President, Carol Reil; Vice President, Sandra Smart; Secretary, Betty Corbett; and Treasurer, Linda Youngworth develop not only the skill of a marvelous sport but also the traits of good sportsmanship and of social friendship.

Competition is keen among our North bowlers, for the highest scorer of each week becomes eligible for one of the prizes or trophies awarded at the Annual Sports Banquet in May. Then, too, the support and guidance of the club's adviser, Miss McCoy, give a real lift to all North Quincy High School bowlers.

BOYS' BOWLING

As the boys put it: "There's just no such thing as a novice on our bowling team after a few sessions under Mr. Paul Carlin's coaching know-how." And from what we have observed on our news-nosing sallies into The Wollaston Boulevard Bowladrome we endorse the boys' boast. Scores of 100—and would we flex our muscles at such enviable consistency!—arouse good-natured ribbing as the soon-to-be-brushed off slipping of an off day. And what dedicated sportsman does not have his off-day?

Actually singles run well over 100. Seniors who knock off this score with apple-pie ease are Doug Fleming, John Begley, Marc Comras, Ed Clancy, Jason Felton, Tony Ilacqua, Ron Wilson, Marc Snidman, George Anderson, John Babson, Ken Massey, and Pete MacLeod, not to mention the officers Prexy Fran Sorrento and Veep Bob Askin, who topped the scoring sheet with both the high single and the high three-string average.

GIRLS' SPORTS

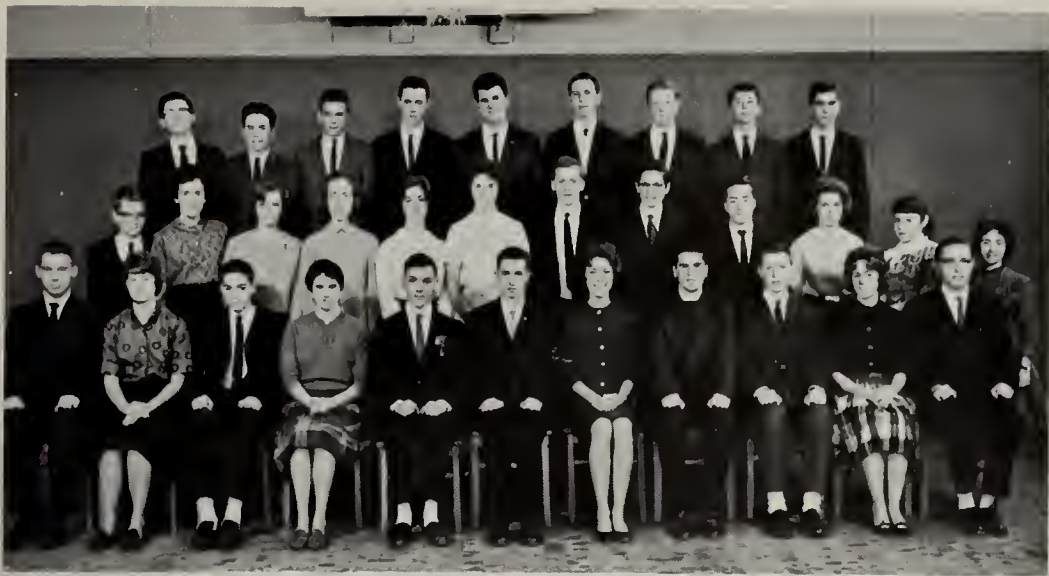

What goes up, must come down.

On Tuesday and Friday afternoons throughout the basketball season eighteen teams of girls battled for a variety of honors. Six teams captained by Seniors Sue Goode, Joyce Jenkins, Pam Pearce, Carole Pierce, Joan Simpson, and Louise Wood, contended for the Senior Girls' Basketball Crown.

Sponsors Miss McCoy and Miss O'Connor were fortunate in having hard-working officials in addition to enthusiastic players. What girl can forget these dashes to the locker room during lunch for a preview of the afternoon's foe, or that sprawling around the new gym trying to discipline a concentration span while hardly able to wait to spring to action on the court!

SCIENCE CLUB

It is often said that today's youth lacks the inspiration to work. The Science Club of N.Q.H.S. is constantly disproving this statement. Wednesday afternoons from September to June find forty-odd young scientists with their dedicated teachers assembled in Room 429 to hear lectures and witness demonstrations.

To the awe of almost the entire student body, the Science Club manifests its inspirations at the annual Science Fair held this year on March 15. Here over sixty projects are exhibited, with winning entries going on to state and regional competition. This year North was proud to have a Westinghouse Science Talent Search Finalist in JOAN SIMPSON, whose project on Diatoms is now winning her national acclaim.

With the assistance of their adviser, Miss Wilma Shields, the Club's officers—Pres. Raymond Smith, Vice Pres. Robert Whitney, Secretary Susan Schurman, and Treasurer Stephan Bressler—put on the Submarine Supper in October as a part of their drive for a successful Fair.

MATH CLUB

They find math as easy as pie.

From arithmetic to algebra, geometry to calculus, no problem is left untackled by North's Mathematics Club. The members, inspired by their adviser, Miss Horrigan, find enjoyment in wrestling with the virtually insoluble problems presented to them. Program Chairman Leila Nash and her assistant Ann Sullivan plan many stimulating activities for the group each week, including hearing speakers who are active in mathematics. These meetings are valuable to many members, for, besides having the opportunity to exercise their mathematical ability, they are well prepared for competitive testing in this field. Under the leadership of their officers: William Adams, John Pickrell, Pat O'Connell, and Joan Simpson, the members of the club have enjoyed a most stimulating and meaningful year.

DRAMA CLUB

Fred seems to be warning Margo, Elena, and Judi: "No more line-fluffing."

Enthusiasm and hard work can mean little else but success, and surely the Drama Club has both. Officers—President Karen Labuzoski, Vice President Bob Huke, Secretary Elena Dworkin, and Treasurer Judi Bean—organized the club early in the year and got the season off to a rollicking start with their presentation of "Our Miss Brooks." Mrs. Donovan, faculty adviser, directed the three-act play. Seniors Karen Labuzoski and Judi Bean were among the stars of the production. No group could have devoted more time and effort to perfecting its presentation than this year's Drama Club did. The resultant staging, lighting, make-up, advertising, and well-rehearsed acting offered a truly hilarious story in the best spirit of student-faculty relations.

MOTION PICTURE OPERATORS' CLUB

The success of a stage production often depends heavily on the quality of the stage lighting and sound system. The truth of this statement is borne out by the success of the Drama Club's Play, the Manet Show and the Spring Concert, for the productions were capably managed by the members of Mr. Mason's Motion Picture Operators' Club. The officers Rich Anderson, Rich MacDonald, Charlie Woodbury, and Joe Giovannangeli have been efficient stage hands and projectionists for both our frequent assemblies and our special shows.

As well as producing our assemblies and shows, the boys in the club maintain and repair the 16 mm sound projectors, the screens, the tape recorders, and the film strip projectors. In the event of breakdowns in classrooms, the members of the club are quickly on hand to apply their know-how to make the on-the-spot repairs.

TEACHERS' CAREER CLUB

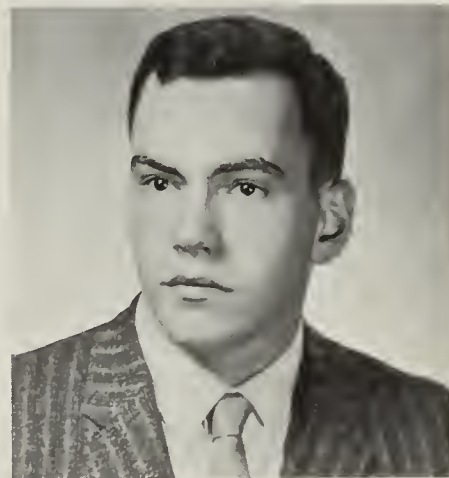

Praiseworthy is the realistic 1962-1963 theme of North's Teachers' Career Club: "Do I really want to be a teacher?" That this sensible study in motivation include all nuances of teenagers' self-introspection, Mr. Savitsky, adviser, drew up a blue print for the year's program. As a result of the contacts made, the officers — President, Carol Green; Vice-President, Phyllis Tennenbaum; Secretary, Rosemary Palm; and Treasurer, Sheila Kelly—delved knowingly into field trips, lectures, and panel discussions.

Particularly pertinent were the field trips to the schools of education at both Northeastern University and Emmanuel College, for in both places informal talks with cheerful answering of student questions by the deans were followed by sitting in on actual classes in session in the areas of teaching that presently appeal to club members. Follow-up evaluation discussions at club meetings were moderated by Mr. Savitsky.

CHEERLEADERS

Inspiration leads to success. The group best known for inspiration at North are the cheerleaders. These twelve pretty girls practiced cheers and stunts for long hours in preparation for their job of inspiring the Raider Boys on to victory. At almost every sporting event, the cheerleaders came up with a new sign or cheer. Indeed they contributed in large part towards North Quincy's victories. The spirit from their cheers quickly spread throughout any audience or team from North. With Cyndi Ames as head, the girls appeared in rain, snow, sleet, hail, cold and heat. The cheerleaders worked so that our boys could reach their goal of victory. These twelve girls are proof that inspiration leads to achievement.

DRUM MAJORETTES

Smiling and confident, the North Quincy Drum Majorettes strutted down the length of the field, once again giving a flawless Thanksgiving Day game performance. Arrayed in beautiful new sheepskin uniforms, heads Mary Connolly and Cheryl Zoia directed the talented majorettes: Jean Bowman, Mary Clifford, Pamela Cook, Marie DeSanta, Linda Mathieson, Rosemary Nevulis, Deborah Sears, and Pat Walsh through their fancy routines. The girls now admit that the many long hours of drill were well spent and were indeed necessary to insure a spectacular performance.

Brimming with enthusiasm to discover new techniques of baton twirling and to perfect their already varied twirling skills, the girls attended a workshop given by a former North Quincy head majorette to learn of new concepts in twirling and marching. Then under the capable leadership of Miss O'Connor, they were able to put these new methods into actual practice, and even their two cute squad mascots, Nancy Bronniche and Regina Zoia, could glow with pride at the results.

Our Majorettes ended their exciting year with a top-rate performance in North's Annual Spring Concert and with their participation at the Southeast Music Festival at Easton, Massachusetts.

The 1962-1963 North Quincy High School Drum Majorette Squad will long be remembered not only for their devoted work but also for their grace and spirit. Their example of enthusiasm and school spirit will remain at North to serve as a guide to those who follow in their footsteps.

BAND

North Quincy High School's fine band, under the direction of the talented Mr. Ferrante, has perhaps the busiest schedule of all the activities. This year, as in the past, the band played at all the football games and at the school Christmas assembly. Also, it ably represented our school in the United Fund Kick-off Parade and in the city Christmas Parade. In addition, it starred in a spring concert in March and will participate in the Spring Music Festival in competition with bands of schools from all of Eastern Massachusetts. Mr. Ferrante has confidence that the band will attain as high a rating this year in the festival as it has in the past. As usual, the band will climax the year by performing at graduation exercises.

Our talented band of sixty musicians is also striving constantly for improvement not only in performance, but also in appearance. For this reason, the second dance of the year "The Yakoo Jump" was sponsored by the band and was a combined social and financial success. The money will be used towards new music and new uniforms. The officers of the band are President, William Adams; Vice President, Wallace Wrigley; Secretary, Susan Barrows; and Treasurer, Raymond Smith.

GLEE CLUB

The miracle of music has again touched the hearts of North Quincy High School students. The mixed glee club, under the patient directing of Mr. Frank G. Bono and with the talented accompanying of Alice Read and Diane Brierley has presented outstanding vocal selection on special occasions throughout the year. Especially beautiful was Judi Reid's rendition of Holy Night at the Christmas assembly and of Schubert's Ave Maria at the Easter convocation. In keeping with Yuletide spirit, a selected choir was formed to carol in the halls and wish "Peace on earth to men of good will."

Congratulations to two North Quincy students, Carol Green and Charlotte Lantery, who represented North at the Southeastern District Music Concert held in Randolph for it was there, under the expert conducting of Dr. Allen C. Lannom, that our representatives had the opportunity to improve their choral techniques and to achieve a high degree of perfection in vocal skills. North will also send a representative to the All-State Music Festival and the All-Eastern Concert.

Although the glee club's last official performance of 1963 will be at the graduation ceremonies in the stadium, the beauty and the magic of its generous musical offerings will both keep alive cherished memories and motivate many a harmonious note in future unavoidable discordant circumstances.

GIRLS' CLUB

Just leave it to the ingeniousness of the sponsors, Mrs. Hooker and Mrs. Garelick, and the executive board and the officers of the Senior Girls' Club—President, Margaret Lawler; Vice President, Joyce Jenkins; Secretary, Mary Connolly; and Treasurer, Barbara Feldman—to pull rabbits out of the proverbial hat that gave this season's program of tried-and-true basic projects a sparkle and charm of new appeal.

First, there was the record hop in October that socially reflected the variegated glory of the season while financially it gave color to the exchequer. As a result the first service project, Thanksgiving dinners for three dozen needy families in the city, were complete from soup to nuts. Close at its heels was the second project, a festive Christmas party with carols and Santa Claus to gladden the hearts of the physically-handicapped class at the Pollard School.

The month of Cupid and the Cherry Tree now reverberates at North as the month of "Winter Wonderland," a semi-formal of female frothy and pastel beauty and male attentive and well-mannered elegance. Since no let-up behind the scenes was the password, we were treated to Americana, a topical revue, on May 10 and 11, part of the profits from which went to the Manet. And later in May, the girls fondly remembered their mothers with a very nice tea.

Margaret breezes through another executive board meeting.
